

NAIAS Honors Students For Annual Poster Contest

The North American International Auto Show (NAIAS) has named the winners of its annual high school poster contest.

Held in conjunction with the upcoming 2014 show, which takes place Jan. 13-26 at Cobo Center in Detroit, this year's contest drew a record 989 entries from 73 high schools.

The grand prize – the Chairman's Award of $1,000 – goes to Lindsey Simon, a 12th grade student at Romeo Engineering and Technology Center in Washington, Mich.

NAIAS 2014 Chairman Bob Shuman selected the winning entry, which will be printed in the official NAIAS program.

Established to engage the creative minds of Michigan's future artists, the 26th annual contest recognizes students from throughout the state.

"The record number of entries speaks volumes about interest in NAIAS and the global auto industry," said Shuman.

"What is especially important is that these students exhibited the creative talent that is so critical to the success of this industry. We congratulate the winning artists."

Winners were also selected in several categories and awarded cash prizes. The $1,000 State Farm Insurance Award went to Angelica Paparizos of Henry Ford High School in Sterling Heights.

Honorees who each received a $500 prize include: Designer's Best of Show, Digital – Derrick Wayne Willis Bowie of Kalamazoo Central High School; Designer's Best of Show, Traditional – Haley Touchette, Grand Blanc High School; 10th Grade Award – Katelyn Galant, Lakeview High School, St. Clair Shores; 11th Grade Award – Zoe Wilson, Careerline Technical Center, Holland; 12th Grade Award, Jennifer Tigani, William D. Ford Career Technical Center, Westland.

Honorees who each received a $250 prize included Most Creative Award winner Jefferson Braybrook, Careerline Tech Center, Holland; Best Use of Color Award winner Teada Ngin, Careerline Tech Center; Best Theme Award winner Tiffany Teng, Novi High School.

Honorees who each received a $250 prize included 10th Grade Award, Mujo Hrnjica, Hamtramck High School; 11th Grade Award, Veronica Peterson, William D. Ford Career Technical Center, Westland; 12th Grade Award, Jennifer Tigani, William D. Ford Career Technical Center.

The honorees who each received a $100 prize were 10th Grade Award, Claire Beresford, Bloomfield Hills High School; 11th Grade Award, Paris Leek, Careerline Tech Center; 12th Grade Award, Ronald Malmsten, William D. Ford Career Technical Center.

All winning entries will be posted on the official NAIAS website, www.naias.com, and will be on display Jan. 18-26 at the NAIAS 2014. The 26th Annual High School Poster Contest was open to Michigan students in grades 10 through 12.
