

2014 Chevrolet Camaro Z/28 Features 'Flying Car' Logic

in the Chevrolet Camaro ZL1.

The Z/28 represents the first non-Magnetic Ride Control application of PTM, pioneered on the Corvette ZR1 and incorporated

"From the hardware bolted to the chassis to the software such as the 'flying car' logic, every element built into it was designed to help deliver faster lap times, with consistency, control and dependability."

The Van's the Thing, Now That Economy Has Turned

for Nissan North America. "The vehicles are really nearing the end of their useful life."

"A lot of these contractors have been trying to keep their old products as long as they can," said Peter Bedrosian, senior manager of Product Planning

Ford sold only 8,800 Transit Connects when it was introduced in 2009, but that grew to almost 40,000 last year. Nissan's NV 200 and the Ram Cargo Van, a modified minivan, joined the market, pushing total small van sales to more than 53,000 in 2013. Big vans saw even larger growth, with sales rising from 159,000 in 2009 to nearly 259,000 last year.
